

Acknowledgements

We owe a debt to Qudsiya Ahmed, Anwesha Rana, Aditya Majumdar and Suvadip Bhattacharjee of Cambridge University Press for their outstanding professionalism at various stages in the production of this book. We also thank Ratnesh Jha, Managing Director, Cambridge University Press, South Asia for his invaluable support.

We are deeply grateful to Mr K. V. Kamath for kindly agreeing to write the foreword to this edition.

We are very grateful to Mr Srivatsa Krishna, IAS, Mr P. S. Srinivas, (formerly of the World Bank and currently at the New Development Bank), Mr D. Sampath Kumar (formerly Editor, Business Line), Mrs Aarati Krishnan and Ms Rajalakshmi Nirmal (both of Business Line), Mr S. Santhanakrishnan (Managing Partner, PKF Sridhar & Santhanam, Chartered Accountants), Dr G. Sreekumar (Chief General Manager, Reserve Bank of India) and Ms Araceli Tria (formerly of the World Bank) for their valuable help in various ways at various stages.

We thank the following for permission to use published material:

- Ms Carolyn Ramsteiner and Thomson Reuters
- Mr Jon Vialoux and Equity Clock (a division of Tech Talk Financial Network/ Equityclock.com)
- Mr Hemant Jha and McGraw Hill Education

Harsh Gupta would like to especially acknowledge Professor Elias Papaioannou, Professor Meir Kohn, Professor Pierre Hillion and Professor Lucie Tepla for his intellectual growth while absolving them of any errors in his conceptual understanding that may have crept in.

